350 Enemy Troops Are Killed

By GEORGE ESPER
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have killed 350 Viet Cong in the largest allied assault of the war in the Mekong Delta, field commanders in the operation reported today.

The U.S. Command in Saigon announced the massive ground and river operation by an estimated 10,000 troops was launched last Friday to clear out Viet Cong whose mining of the main highway from the delta has raised food prices in Saigon. The announcement of the operation was withheld for five days for security reasons.

The U.S. Command said it had reports of 200 Viet Cong killed and that U.S. casualties were 16 dead and 59 wounded. Unofficial reports from the field said 28 South Vietnamese troops had been killed and 50 wounded.

Elsewhere in South Vietnam, only light ground action was reported.

The air war in North Vietnam jumped back to normal scale Monday as the weather cleared and Navy fliers resumed full operations after the disruption caused by the fire aboard the carrier Forrestal.

U.S. fliers flew a total of 136 missions, 46 more than the 90 flown Sunday. Many of their targets were in the Hanoi-Hai-phong area which had been protected by bad weather in recent weeks.

Two more American warplanes were lost, raising to 627 the number of U.S. combat planes reported lost over North Vietnam. Three crewmen were listed as missing.

Two U.S. Army helicopters also were destroyed in a collision which killed eight men near the coastal city of Tuy Hoa, 250 miles northeast of Saigon.

Troops of the U.S. 9th and 25th Infantry divisions, South Vietnamese rangers and Marines and a U.S. Navy task force were taking part in the big delta sweep centered about 14 miles west of My Tho, one of the largest cities in the rich rice-producing area.

Future Planes, Space Craft May Be Made With Edible Portions

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — This may be a typical conversation in the future:

Guest: "My, what a delicious stew. Where do you get such wonderful beef?"

Hostess: "Oh, it's not made of beef. I simply put in parts of our old automobile."

Guest: "The fenders?"

Hostess: "No, the fenders on that particular car model are a bit tough, so I ground them up as hamburger for our dog. For the stew I used mostly the dashboard and choice filets from the brake bands. They are ever so much more tender."

Sounds far-fetched? Well, at the moment it is. But perhaps not for long.

According to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, scientists of the Ralston-Purina Co. have raised the possibility of making airplanes and spacecraft with edible portions made of soybean products.

They would keep from starvation astronauts marooned on the moon or plane pilots stranded after crash landings in remote areas of the earth.

The idea is fascinating. But why limit it merely to parts of aircraft and space capsules?

As most husbands who have ever eaten a precooked and frozen television dinner know, practically anything can be made edible today. Modern chemistry can make almost any substance palatable, particularly if you salt it enough and cover it with a few inches of catsup.

This raises the possibility of solving forever one of the biggest problems facing today's civilization: how to keep it from being covered up by its own debris.

We are in danger today of being strangled by the things we don't consume but can't seem to eat.

New Group for Mental Aid Meets

A group of 25 persons interested in procuring aid for mentally retarded children met at the City Hall last week.

This initial meeting was presided over by Mrs. Haskell Jones, temporary chairman, who introduced Mr. Sam Sanders, executive director of the Arkansas Association of Retarded Children from Little Rock, who was present to help organize a local unit of the National Association here in Hempstead County.

Mr. Sanders related to the group the goals of the organization which are basically "To Help All Retarded Children Everywhere" including aid for research on the national level.

The chapter of the Howard County Association for retarded children sent a message pledging cooperation with the Hempstead County group.

Nominations for a board of directors were presented by Mrs. Minor Polk and accepted by vote.

Board members are: Dr. Don Freeland, James Morrow, Garland Medders, George Frazier, Mrs. David Griffin, Dr. Forney Holt, Rep. Talbot Field, Mr. James Hardin, Dr. Herbert Rogers, Mrs. Freed Greenan and Mrs. Bill Routon.

By laws of the constitution of the National Association were heard and explained by Mr. Sanders and also accepted by the group in attendance.

Why can't science concentrate on making them out of a low-caloric, tasty protein fiber? All that would be required would be the shifting around of a few molecules here and there to change one substance into another.

Think how much money you'd save if you could pour milk over the chopped-up container it came in and eat the crunchy container as a breakfast food.

Wouldn't it be nice if, after draining a can of beer, you could munch on the can as if it were a cracker or a cookie?

The same thing could be done with most furniture, draperies and clothing. They could be made edible, too.

"You want a new dress, dear? Not until you eat the old one."

As a gesture to international good will, science might even develop edible casings for hydrogen bombs. Then, at a given signal, the inhabitants of every nation might hold a vast world picnic at which they'd eat the bomb casings en masse, thus giving mankind, for the first time in its history, peace and a full stomach simultaneously.

Blevins P.M. Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will nominate Russell A. Orr for the postmastership at Ash Flat (Sharp County) and Hautie L. Huskey for the postmastership at Blevins (Hempstead County), the White House announced Monday.

James said the men took him back to the wooded area, tied him to a tree and placed a rag in his mouth to muffle his cries for help. He said he managed to free himself after they left, and that he hitchhiked to El Dorado, where he told the sheriff of the incident.

Romney Is Rebuked by Mansfield

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield rebuked Michigan's Republican Gov. George Romney, saying political statements about rioting are "demeaning and utterly useless."

Romney asserted Monday that President Johnson "played politics" when rioters took to the streets in Detroit and the governor sought federal troops to deal with them.

Neither Johnson, the White House nor Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark would comment directly on the Romney accusation.

Thus, Mansfield became the top-ranking Democrat to counterattack Romney but he did not absolve his own party as he urged an end to political talk about cities in turmoil.

Much of the letters appear to be from whites, particularly those with Southern postmarks. But there are some from Negroes.

"I think both sides are guilty of playing politics with an issue that is too explosive to handle in that manner," Mansfield said in an interview. "The playing of politics should not be tolerated and will not be appreciated by the American people."

Earlier at a news conference, Johnson avoided challenging Romney. A reporter said the Michigan governor had become increasingly critical of the way the administration handled his request for federal troops.

Johnson said he had asked his new commission on civil disorders to determine what happened in Detroit, why it happened, and what can be done to prevent a recurrence.

"Basically, I do not have knowledge of the whys and the wherefores and causes," he said. Johnson also said, "I don't think anything is to be gained by trying to justify or explain" his troop decisions. The White House said the President has no intention of criticizing Romney.

"I refer you to the record," White House press secretary George Christian said when newsmen asked for comment on the Romney charges.

Christian said he did not know what Romney referred to in his assertion of "complete and absolute distortion" by the White House.

Clark, an administration contact man with Romney during events preceding troop deployment, declined comment on the governor's charges.

THE RACIAL SCENE

Violence breaks out in the Negro district of Washington, D.C., about a mile northeast of the White House.

Milwaukee is generally calm following the destructive rioting by Negroes. Only scattered sniper fire breaks the eerie silence of the sealed-off city.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says political statements about rioting are "demeaning and utterly useless."

To sum it up, several members of Congress said, "The folks are playing politics."

A demand for arms, particularly handguns, accompanies the violence in riot-struck cities. A few dealers temporarily half sales.

The State Department is moving to revoke the passport of Stokely Carmichael.

Citizens by the thousands are writing their congressmen over the rioting and looting.

Numerous letter writers called for something to be done about such militantly outspoken Negro leaders as Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown.

Many others suggested that money required for the Vietnam war might better be spent in the United States.

Most members of Congress decline to permit their correspondents to be quoted by name but do permit quotations from letters so long as the writer is not identified.

On that basis, The Associated Press obtained many of the riot letters. Here are samples of what Mr. and Mrs. America are writing their senators and representatives about the matter:

Newspaper at Sheridan Is Sold

SHERIDAN, Ark. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Dalton V. Walker, who have owned and edited the Sheridan Headlight since 1932, have sold the weekly newspaper to Mr. and Mrs. Harlan V. Walker, former owners and editors of newspapers at McCrory, Augusta and Cotton Plant.

Dalton and Harlan Walker are brothers.

The Headlight, the oldest business in Grant County, was founded in 1881 by W. N. Cleveland and Henry Bales, who named it the Sheridan Spy.

Dalton Walker began working at the newspaper as a printer's devil at the age of 14 and bought it 35 years ago from W. D. Phillips. Walker also is district manager for the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., here, and will continue in that position.

El Dorado Kidnapping Case to Trial

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Elvin Wade Eaves, 43, of El Dorado, one of two men charged with robbing and kidnapping El Dorado businessman George C. James last April 11, was to go on trial in Circuit Court here today.

Calvin Eugene Hale, 38, of Houston, Tex., the other man charged in the case, was arrested at McAllen, Tex., and currently is serving a sentence in Leavenworth Federal Prison for possession of narcotics.

James told Union County authorities that he was kidnapped about 10:30 a.m. after two men forced their way into his home at gunpoint and ransacked the house.

James said he was taken to a wooded area east of the city, where he was tied up, and that his kidnappers took him to Calion, near El Dorado, where they forced him to call El Dorado banks and authorize payment on two checks totaling $14,600.

James said the men took him back to the wooded area, tied him to a tree and placed a rag in his mouth to muffle his cries for help. He said he managed to free himself after they left, and that he hitchhiked to El Dorado, where he told the sheriff of the incident.

Fred McElroy, Commander of the VFW Post, announced that V. R. Lockwood, district VFW commander, will be present for a meeting of the local post on Thursday, Aug. 3, at 7:30 p.m. and that he hitchhiked to El Dorado, where he told the sheriff of the incident.

Washington Is Hit by Race Rioting

By GAYLORD SHAW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roving gangs of Negro youths smashed store windows and peleted police and firemen with bottles and bricks early today after nearly a dozen fires broke out in a predominantly Negro area within a mile of the White House.

Police reported about 30 arrests, "very little looting," and two minor injuries in 2½ hours of sporadic disturbances—first of the summer in the nation's capital. Two-thirds of Washington's 750,000 residents are Negroes.

"They smashed windows with bottles and on several occasions set fires," said Police Capt. R. N. Hough. "There was very little looting—the only looting was done in show windows and in liquor stores. There was no pattern. It was purely hit and run."

Scores of policemen, some wearing white riot helmets and carrying shotguns, surged into the northern fringe of Washington's main business district when the first fire attracted a crowd of 300.

Police dogs also were deployed in the area.

Officers dispersed the crowd after a squad car was hit by bottles, but gangs of youths roamed northward along a bony-tonk section of 14th Street.

Some of the teen-agers shouted Black Power slogans.

Windows of an undetermined number of businesses were smashed. Burglar alarms clang and broken glass littered the rain-soaked sidewalks. A 15-minute downpour helped police clear the streets.

Police Inspector M. C. Reed, the officer in charge of the department during the early morning hours, said the disturbances were limited primarily to vandalism and minor fires.

The mile-square trouble area contains a mixture of small stores and multifamily row houses. Bounded roughly by 14th Street on the west, U Street on the north, 3rd Street on the east and M Street on the south, the area is less than a mile northeast of the White House and about 1½ miles northwest of the Capitol.

During the disturbances, all was quiet on the White House grounds. The normal overnight guard detail apparently was not reinforced.

Pine Bluff Bank Robbed of $22,000

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A man armed with a pistol robbed the Broadmoore Branch of the National Bank of Commerce of $22,000 here Monday, then fled south on U.S. 65 in a taxicab.

Authorities said roadblocks were set up in the area where the man left the cab and drove off in a pickup truck.

Curfew Lifted in Milwaukee

By FRANK S. JOSEPH
Milwaukee, Wis. (AP) — The city lifted the iron grip of curfew temporarily today after it had helped police and National Guardsmen turn the streets of riot-torn Negro neighborhoods into eerie, silent passageways.

The office of the mayor declared that the curfew, clamped on the city and duplicated by most suburbs after firebombing and sniping broke out Sunday night, would be restored at 7 p.m.

Sales of gasoline in containers that might encourage firebombing, and liquor sales, remained prohibited. The curfew was eased "throughout the entire city" including the troubled inner core, but police and guardsmen were ordered to remain on stand-by alert.

The violent events of Sunday night and early Monday, which claimed two lives, dwindled Monday night into occasional gunshots and fires. Police were seen sleeping on sidewalks, shot-guns tucked under their arms.

There was at least one sniper incident during the night, resulting in the arrest of a 27-year-old white man. There was one death — that of a 34-year-old Negro woman who apparently suffered a heart attack after fleeing a burning building which had been firebombed.

But compared to the previous night, when two persons died violently and fire after fire lit the inner core, police and more than 4,000 National Guardsmen seemingly had mob violence firmly in check.

Police and National Guardsmen stood in the darkened intersections, bayonet-tipped rifles at the ready. Nearly every car was challenged. There were almost no pedestrians, and the few Negro pedestrians were often stopped and frisked.

Will Report on Calico Rock Schools

CALICO ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A special committee of the Arkansas Education Association said Monday it would make its first report on the school system here to the AEA Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission and then to the AEA Board of Directors.

Mrs. Helen Henderson of Imboden, the committee chairman, said she didn't know how soon the report would be submitted.

The Calico Rock School Board and Supt. T. J. Silvey had voted unanimously to ask the AEA to investigate the system.

Some 300 school district patrons filed a suit after the investigation began asking Izard Chancery Court to enjoin Silvey from acting as superintendent.

The suit alleged that the superintendent had used school credit cards for his own benefit and had books in the schools that taught the theory of evolution.

PARTY HELD FOR MISS FIELDING

Miss Jacque Fielding, bride-elect of Mike Allen, was feted with a rice bag party Saturday, July 29 in the home of Mrs. A. L. Park. The future bride wore a white and navy dress and pinned a corsage of fleur d'amour to her shoulder. Her mother, Mrs. Jack Fielding, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. J.D. Allen, were given white corsages also.

A group of 12 friends assembled and made rice bags to be used at the Fielding-Alien wedding on August 5 at the First Baptist Church. At the conclusion of the afternoon the hostess served an ice course. The only out-of-town guest was Miss Sharon Fielding of Little Rock, sister of the honoree.

Didn't Even Know She Was Pregnant

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—B.W. Cook's wife called him: "I don't feel good. Call the doctor."

"So I called the doctor and he told me to take her to the hospital," but he said when he got back from the phone call, "my wife was sitting there with a new baby."

Until Sunday afternoon Cook and his wife, Patricia, were unaware that she was pregnant, said Cook.

He reported that Mrs. Cook had felt tired and run down. A few months ago, and after some tests a dentist advised extracting all her teeth. She was fitted with dentures—and felt better.

"Then she began developing back aches. Only Sunday afternoon the back pains got real bad and my wife made an appointment with the doctor for a checkup. She was going to see him Monday." The unexpected baby, Paul Sterling Cook, weighed 5 pounds 3 ounces and was reported in fine condition.

breaks in summer reruns.

As usual at this time of year, network game and conversation shows, from NBC's morning "Today" to ABC's late "Joey Bishop Show" are being visited on network orders by performers plugging their upcoming shows.

Studio and network press agents are concentrating on angles for stories, distributing pictures of their stars and attempting to convince skeptical newspaper and magazine writers that September will produce the most exciting collection of hits since Milton Berle ruled the airwaves.

Last year, the trade magazine "Broadcasting" estimated that all this promotional activity cost the networks more than $3 million exclusive of more millions in air time. This year it could be even more expensive.

At base, however, the drum beating seems perfunctory and forced. A look at the schedules indicates there will be the usual assortment of new shows—serials, Westerns, a few variety shows, a lot of action-adventure shows and a handful of half-hour comedy programs.

No big star names have come into television this season—neither Carol Burnett nor Jerry Lewis, who will star in variety shows on CBS and NBC respectively, is a television novice.

The season's excitement is expected to emerge through its "specials." ABC is publicizing its year as a "very special season," and NBC is doing a lot of talking about "event television."

Specials this season will number 125 to 300, depending on the definition of a special. They are in production, including 25 new series on the three major networks' evening schedules.

Stars and stars-to-be arise at 5:30 a.m. to work long weekdays at the studio, then fly off for exhausting weekends in spots as distant as Washington, D.C., submitting to interviews and posing for pictures—all to publicize their shows.

Players Ask Owners to Change Rule

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking at one of baseball's most controversial rules, major league players asked club owners Monday to review the reserve clause with the idea in mind to change it.

The proposal was one of a list of suggestions presented in a seven-page statement of policy at a news conference by Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association. This is the first time the players have drawn up such a comprehensive and formal list of proposals.

"In addition to placing the player in the untenable position of being required to accept the club's proposed salary or leaving organized baseball, the reserve clause is of doubtful legality," the statement said.

"We find no validity in the calamitous predictions that chaos will result from any change whatsoever. The solution of this problem lies neither in a sudden elimination of the reserve clause, whether by judicial decree or otherwise, nor in the preservation of the status quo."

Miller declined to discuss alternatives to the clause, which, in effect, binds a player to the team he signs with for his entire playing career unless the team deals him to another club.

One possibility for change is the plan pro football uses in which a player signs a one-year contract with a one-year option. He can play out the option the second year and sign with another club.

The proposals also included reviewing the length of the season, now 162 games; the establishment of a grievance procedure; a role for the players in television contract negotiations, and the reduction from 25 to 10 per cent the maximum amount a player's salary can be cut in one year.

Miller also declined a specific suggestion on the length of the season, but the players did ask that no day doubleheaders be scheduled after night games, no night games on getaway days if either club has a day game the next day, no one-day stands, a day off for teams traveling from coast to coast and no games during the All-Star break.

The players say any player, coach, manager or trainer should be able to discuss a legitimate complaint with a club representative.

If an agreement can not be reached, the Players Association and Player Relations Committee should take up the problem and finally it should go to arbitration.

The players, asking for a say in television negotiations, feel an unfair proportion of the total money package of the World Series, All-Star Game and Game of the Week was assigned to the Game of the Week. The players drive benefits from the other two, but not from the Game of the Week.

Strange Says Fast Ball, Slider Best

By DAVE O'HARA

BOSTON (AP) — Veteran Lee Stange of the Boston Red Sox figures the fast ball and the slider are his bread and butter, but he throws a curve ball just enough to keep opposing batters honest.

The 30-year-old right-hander had the fast ball and slider working to perfection and retired the first 20 batters in order before settling for a three-hitter Monday in a 4-0 victory over the heavy-hitting Minnesota Twins.

Stange needed only 94 pitches — 64 of them for strikes — in fashioning his fourth straight victory and second shutout of the season. He fired 56 fast balls, 30 sliders and eight curves.

"I go with the fast ball and slider most of the time," he said. "I throw the curve intending only to keep the ball down, even in the dirt. I use the curve only to give batters something to think about."

Ironically, the curve spoiled Stange's no-hit bid. With two out in the seventh, Harmon Killebrew looped a line single to left. The only other Minnesota hits were a topper down the third base line by Sandy Valdes.

Colavito Paying Off for Chisox

By RON RAPOORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Luis Tiant figured he knew how to pitch to Rocky Colavito. Colavito figured the same. They both figured wrong.

Still wrinkling up his brand new Chicago White Sox uniform, Rocky delivered his first hit for the Sox Monday night and he made it a good one: a two-run homer in the 10th inning that beat Cleveland 4-2.

Before the game, Tiant was saying how he knew which pitches to throw to Colavito, who was traded by the Indians Saturday.

"I would imagine he would," said the Rock. "After all, we played on the same team for three years. He was throwing me all kinds of stuff all night. Finally, I hit his fast ball. I knew it was gone immediately."

In the only other American League game Tuesday, Boston blanked Minnesota 4-0 and Kansas City opened New York 8-6.

In the National League, Atlanta beat Cincinnati 5-2, St. Louis crushed Chicago 9-2, San Francisco whipped Pittsburgh 8-4, Houston edged New York 3-2 and Philadelphia topped Los Angeles 4-2 in 11 innings.

Their victory proved the White Sox are developing a talent for making trades. Trailing 2-1 with two out in the ninth, they stayed alive when Ken Boyer, recently acquired from the New York Mets, delivered a run-scoring single to tie it up.

Then Wayne Causey led off the 10th with a single and, after Tom McCraw bunted into a force play, Colavito hit his sixth homer. Until the ninth, Tiant gave up just four hits as Cleveland took the lead on a homer by Vern Fuller and a run-scoring single by Leon Wagner.

Lee Stange pitched masterfully for the Red Sox, retiring the first 20 batters to face him before Harmon Killebrew ended his no-hitter dreams with a two-out single in the seventh. In all, Stange gave up three hits and didn't give up a walk while striking out three.

Carl Yastrzemski provided most of the Boston power, hitting a three-run homer in the third, Stange himself accounted for the other Boston run with a sacrifice fly in the fourth.

The players say any player, coach, manager or trainer should be able to discuss a legitimate complaint with a club representative.

If an agreement can not be reached, the Players Association and Player Relations Committee should take up the problem and finally it should go to arbitration.

The players, asking for a say in television negotiations, feel an unfair proportion of the total money package of the World Series, All-Star Game and Game of the Week was assigned to the Game of the Week. The players drive benefits from the other two, but not from the Game of the Week.

McCormick, Bolinsky Come Alive

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Clock-fancier Mike McCormick isn't missing a tick in his second time around for the San Francisco Giants.

Bo Belinsky, never much of a clock-watcher, finally is making time for the Houston Astros and they figure it's better late than never.

McCormick, who shifted his collection of antique timepieces from Washington to San Francisco when the Giants reacquired him in a winter trade, became the National League's first 14-game winner Monday when Jack Hiatt's grand slam pinch homer gave him an 8-4 victory over Pittsburgh.

Belinsky, whose watch stopped several times in Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Houston when the midnight curfew was at hand, held the New York Mets to two singles and beat them 3-2 Monday night with ninth-inning help from Larry Sherry as the Astros stretched their season-high winning streak to seven games.

The St. Louis Cardinals, meanwhile, ran their league lead to 4½ games by drubbing the Chicago Cubs 9-2; Atlanta trimmed Cincinnati 5-2 and Philadelphia downed Los Angeles 4-2 in 11 innings.

The Chicago White Sox topped Cleveland 4-2 in 10 innings; Boston blanked Minnesota 4-0 and Kansas City outscored the New York Yankees 8-6 in the only games on the American League schedule.

McCormick, who started with the Giants in New York 11 years ago at the age of 18 and made his way back into their starting rotation after stopovers in Baltimore and Washington and a long bout with arm trouble, fought the Pirates to a 4-4 standstill through eight innings.

In the bottom of the eighth Hiatt pinch hit for McCormick and cleared the bases with his homer off reliever Elroy Face.

McCormick, 14-5 is tied for the major league victory lead with Jim Lonborg of the Red Sox.

The 28-year-old southpaw has 30 clocks on display in his suburban San Francisco home.

Belinsky, who was out of time after being drafted by the Astros from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League last November brought his record to 3-6 and lowered his blown-up ERA by Vern Fuller and a run-scoring single by Leon Wagner.

Lee Stange pitched masterfully for the Red Sox, retiring the first 20 batters to face him before Harmon Killebrew ended his no-hitter dreams with a two-out single in the seventh. In all, Stange gave up three hits and didn't give up a walk while striking out three.

The flamboyant left-hander was clipped for two runs in the first inning on two walks, an error, Tommy Davis' single and a bases-loaded wild pitch.

Belinsky issued a two-out walk in the second, then set down 19 straight batters before Davis singled again leading off the ninth. After walking Ron Swoboda, Bo was lifted and Sherry came in to snuff out the threat.

Ron Davis' leadoff homer triggered a two-run Houston burst in the first inning and Bob Lillis' run-scoring single in the fourth broke the 2-2 tie.

Lou Brock and Orlando Cepeda knocked in four and three runs, respectively, powering the Cards to their sixth straight victory. Right-hander Ray Washburn was the winner with relief help from Hal Woodeshick.

Brock smacked a three-run homer, and Cepeda hit a two-run blast and each stroked a sacrifice fly in St. Louis' 13-hit barrage.

The Braves struck for three runs in the fourth inning and added two more in the fifth on Clete Boyer's 15th homer in snapping a three-game losing string and moving past Cincinnati into third place. Knuckleballer Phil Niekro went the distance for Atlanta, scattering nine hits.

Pinch hitter Tony Taylor singled home the tie-breaking run.

Stange said after hitting his season record to 7-6.

Schollander Has Rival in Spitz

CHARLES ARNOLD

WINNIPEG (AP) — The keenest swimming rivalry in the Pan-Am Games is not between the United States and other countries of the hemisphere but between young Mark Spitz, the Yanks' newest water sensation, and Don Schollander, the old.

"The difference," one member of the powerful U.S. water delegation said today, "is that Schollander talks about what he's done and Spitz talks about what he's going to do—then does it."

This is an example of the sharp split in loyalties in the U.S. swimming camp. You're either a pro-Spitz or a pro-Schollander man.

"Sure, I'd like to duplicate Don's four gold medals in the Olympics and go him one better if I could," said Spitz, a 17-year-old world record-smasher in the butterfly events. "I feel certain I'll try for four at Mexico City and, if the schedule permits, I could go for six."

"I'll swim the 100- and 200-meter butterfly and perhaps three relays. I could possibly throw in a freestyle event, if the altitude doesn't prove too tough."

Spitz set a world record here in the 200-meter butterfly; won the 100-meter butterfly Monday night in :57.3, tying his own pending world mark, and then bagged his fourth gold medal swimming the anchor leg on the 800-meter freestyle team that broke the Pan-American record with a time of 8:05.5. Schollander led off that team with a 1:58.5 for the 200.

Spitz was a cinch for a fifth gold tonight in the men's 400-meter medley relay.

The Santa Clara schoolboy who looms as the United States' chief medal grabber in the next Olympics as well as these Pan-Am Games, appears quite conscious of the Schollander rivalry.

"Don reached his peak in the 1964 Olympics at Tokyo when he won four gold medals," the slender, dark-haired Californian said. "He not only won recognition as a swimmer but as an outstanding athlete. He won about every big athletic award there was—Sullivan Award, outstanding athlete of the year and so forth."

"Now he is trying to add to that. Instead, he is going downhill." Spitz made a downward motion with his hand.

"Me? I want to be the best. I want to win at Mexico City and maybe again in 1972 because they'll be my college years."

Tennis Court Surface Made of Synthetics

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP)

A synthetic surface similar to that in the Houston Astrodome may soon make lawn tennis about as popular as crabgrass.

The product was on display Monday at the Orange Lawn Tennis Club as the week-long Eastern Grass Courts Championships got under way.

Grass gave lawn tennis its name but "maintenance of grass courts is such a headache," according to Don Hobart, chairman of the tournament. "There's so much costly labor involved and the playing season is so short."

The Monsanto Chemical Co., which astroturfed the Astrodome, has put a test court of synthetic green "grass" over one of the clay courts here. Hobart goes to great lengths to point out that it's only a test but it could be the beginning of the end for the grass tennis circuit.

"I can foresee this, or something like it, replacing all the grass courts at the club eventually," Hobart admits.

The synthetic court was placed down in 15-foot-wide strips which are glued together. It can be sprayed with a resin-like substance which can vary the speed of the court. The only maintenance it requires is an occasional vacuum cleaning.

Taylor in Old Position With Saints

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer Jim Taylor's legs begin run for further glory this week. Lary Morris' legs have carried him to the end of a career.

Taylor will be running from his familiar fullback position Wednesday night in the National Football League's first pre-season exhibition, but his uniform and teammates will be different.

For the first time since turning pro in 1958, Taylor will not be playing for powerful Green Bay, but for the New Orleans Saints, the expansion team which acquired him from the Packers during the off-season.

Morris, who starred as a linebacker with the Chicago Bears, before going to the Atlanta Falcons last year, told the Falcons Monday that he was retiring because his legs weren't in top shape and he didn't have the speed and quickness needed to help the club. He missed most of 1966 season with a leg injury.

Saints' Coach Tom Fears named eight other NFL veterans besides Taylor Monday to start on offense Wednesday night against the Los Angeles Rams at Anaheim. The two rookies will be halfback Don McCall of Southern California and guard Del Williams from Florida State.

The career of another veteran, defensive tackle Riley Gurnels of Pittsburgh, apparently has ended. The 30-year-old Gurnels, a seven-year veteran, was hospitalized last week in Pittsburgh for a kidney disorder, and Monday was transferred to an

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

Atlanta hospital for further treatment.

The NFL Cleveland Browns put two of their five holdout players—offensive tackle John Brown and linebacker Sid Williams—on waivers. The other holdouts are fullback Leroy Kelly, Mike Howell and John Wood.

Atlanta asked waivers on defensive back Carl Silverstri and flanker Tom Hutchinson.

Defensive tackle John McDowell was waived by the NFL St. Louis Cardinals, the NFL New York Giants cut linebacker Stan Szurek, flanker Al Snyder and defensive end Bill Mata.

Baltimore of the NFL waived running back Jim Todd, while San Diego of the American Football League dropped safety John McGeever and the AFL New York Jets waived defensive back Arnie Simkus and flanker Earl Christy.

Flood was talking about his four straight hits and how good it was to be back in the lineup after an extended layoff because of an injury. Brock talked about his first homer in nearly two months and Cepeda about how happy he is to be a member of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cardinals had won their sixth straight game in a 9-2 romp over the Chicago Cubs Monday and extended their lead to 4½ games, the biggest margin in the National League since June 6 when Cincinnati held the same advantage over the Cardinals.

Polio Victim Plans to Try the Channel

By TOM BRILEY
REHOBOTH BEACH, Del.
(AP) — Harry Hinken has his problems on land. But put him in the water, and "I'm free."

Hinken, 42, had polio 14 years ago. He can't walk without crutches. But the rest of him is strong, including his determination to become the first paraplegic to swim the English Channel.

Hinken lives in Arlington, Va., where he has a thriving general insurance business. He gets in four to five miles of swimming at the Northern Virginia Aquatic Club each morning before going to work.

Then on weekends he comes to Delaware to train under conditions approximating those found in the channel. The "Indian River inlet here is probably even more treacherous than the English Channel," says Hinken.

His strenuous training was interrupted last year by two operations, the 18th and 19th in the years since he was stricken by polio.

One Arrest in $1.5 Million Mail Robbery

BOSTON (AP) — A major break has occurred in the great Plymouth mail truck robbery with the arrest of a woman and two men in the $1,551,277 cash haul.

The woman, mother of four children, and the two men are accused of committing with "other persons unknown" what is believed to be the largest cash robbery in the nation's history.

A federal grand jury charged the three with the 1962 robbery in indictments returned Monday — two weeks before the five-year statute of limitations runs out for the federal government to prosecute.

Named in the indictments were Thomas R. Richards, 42, of Weymouth, an electrician for New England Power Co.; John J. Kelley, 51, of Watertown, unemployed; and Patricia DiFerrio, 32, of Boston.

Richards was arrested at his home by U.S. marshals. The other two surrendered by arrangements made through their attorneys.

The men, both represented by noted criminal lawyer F. Lee Bailey, were released in bail of $25,000 set by U.S. Commissioner Francis H. Farrell. Mrs. DiFerrio, represented by attorney Joseph Bailliro, was freed after posting $5,000 bail.

The indictments charge that the three, and others unknown, robbed two postal workers of the money in Canadian and U.S. currency. It also charges them with putting the lives of postal employees in jeopardy. Conviction would carry a minimum sentence of 25 years in prison.

Two months after it occurred, about 30 U.S. marshals and post office inspectors tore Richards' $18,000 home apart.

They ripped out ceilings and walls, pried up floor boards and took panels off outside walls and eaves. A search warrant said they sought $1 million of the mail loot.

In the search of Richards' home, $350 in cash was found hidden beneath a bathroom floor, authorities said. Richards said it was gambling winnings.

The searchers said they found a shotgun and a .45-caliber pistol, two bullet-proof vests and two belts of the type worn by policemen.

A power shovel was used to dig up a cement patio Richards had built the summer of the robbery.

Kelley has accused post office inspectors of harassing him in their investigation.

Mrs. DiFerrio was called before the grand jury last week.

The mail truck was en route to the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston with shipments of cash from Cape Cod banks. As the truck entered a lonely stretch of Route 3 in Plymouth, a man in what looked like a policeman's uniform set up highway construction cones on the limited-access road, detouring traffic behind it.

Then the gang of robbers held up the truck, unobserved by any other traffic.

Marvell Group Asks Suit Be Dismissed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Marvell School District asked Federal District Court here Monday to dismiss a suit that would block the construction of a new school on the grounds of the all-Negro W. M. Tate High School.

The district asked that the court give a summary judgment on the suit filed by Earlis Jackson, a Negro patron of the district, who alleged that the new building would perpetuate racial discrimination.

The suit said there was "no financial or educational justification" for two high schools in Marvell and that the new building would be inconsistent with a ruling of the United States Eighth Court of Appeals in the Altheimer school case on April 12.

The Altheimer School District was rebuked by a three-judge panel of the Eighth Circuit for constructing new facilities at the sites of both the predominantly white school and predominantly Negro school at Altheimer. It was required to eliminate the racial identity of both schools.

Dismissal was sought by the district on grounds that Jackson and others that filed the suit were not members of a "class" and were not a "real party in interest." The motion also stated that Jackson's suit "did not sufficiently state a cause of action against the defendants within the jurisdiction of the court."

Marvell now operates under a freedom of choice desegregation plan approved last year by federal Judge Oren Harris of El Dorado. The plan, brought about by the suit of the parents of 65 Negro children, will cover 12 grades this year.

The proposed new building is to replace "temporary facilities" that were used at the Tate School last year, the district officials said.

Says Summer Started Black Revolution

NEW YORK (AP) — The head of the Congress of Racial Equality has shrugged off the civil rights movement as passe and said that this summer's racial explosions may well be recorded in history "as the beginning of the black revolution."

In what he called "a black manifesto," national director Floyd McKissick said, "The tactics and philosophy of the civil rights era can take us no further along the road to total equality. New methods must be found; a new era must begin."

McKissick also issued this warning: "Any nation that can afford to spend $66 million daily on a murderous war in Vietnam can afford many times that amount to aid the suffering and the oppressed."

McKissick said in a news conference Monday that not only the demands of integrationists should be met, but those of black separatists who want to establish communities in Africa and demand financial reparations from the federal government for past wrongs to Negroes.

He also demanded the ownership of all ghetto businesses be turned over to Negroes and that they be given charge of all public facilities in black communities.

"Release all political prisoners," he said. "Now! By that we mean, those seized during the recent rebellions. Halt all prosecutions."

McKissick also issued this warning: "Any nation that can afford to spend $66 million daily on a murderous war in Vietnam can afford many times that amount to aid the suffering and the oppressed."

If America again ignores its responsibility to the black population, we will be faced with increasing year-round violence

Diving Champ Relies on Concentration

By WILL GRIMES
WINNIPEG, Canada (AP) — Lesley Bush, the Olympic and Pan-Am women's platform diving champion, allays any fears of the 10-meter high board by pretending she's practicing.

"If I thought about the fact that I'm going for a gold medal, I'd get so nervous I'd flop on my face," the pleasant, 19-year-old Indiana University coed from Princeton, N.J., said today.

"So I just blot the fact that it's an international competition out of my mind and tell myself it doesn't mean anything—it's just for fun."

Lesley, a petite 115-pounder with dark brown eyes and a flashing smile, stayed loose enough Sunday at the Pan-Am pool to win the platform event by a margin of more than 25 points.

With two magnificent finishing dives—an inward 2½ somersault and a running 1½ somersault with two twists—she scored $41.00 points.

A 16-year-old Canadian tyke, Beverly Boys, beat out 20-year-old Ann Peterson of Phoenix, Ariz., on the last dive for the silver medal. "I got nervous," said the blonde Miss Peterson, unable to hold back the tears.

Lesley's aim now is to repeat as Olympic platform diving queen in Mexico City next year and then become a teacher.

"The 1968 Olympics will be my last," she said.

Lesley said she preferred the high board to the springboard although the former is much more dangerous.

WATTS Riots Negroes Join Rioters

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — H. Rap Brown, Negro leader charged with inciting a riot in Maryland, was in a fashionable restaurant over the weekend having lunch with his lawyer, a newspaperman, and others.

This time he was all dressed up, quite a difference from his usual attire of tight pants and blue denim jacket in which he bargained Negro groups about violence.

His picture, showing him shouting and performing, had been in the newspapers for days. Only two days before this luncheon he had urged a Negro audience to shoot and loot. But in the restaurant he practiced some self-restraint.

Brown is chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. When he started out of the restaurant, said the Washington Evening Star reporter who was with him, well-dressed Negro men and women stopped him repeatedly and shook his hand and said, "We're with you, Rap" or, "Keep it up, Rap."

If this seems surprising to those who may have thought the rioting was supported only by impoverished Negroes in the ghetto, it nevertheless bore out the findings of some sociologists from the University of California who made a long study of the 1965 riot in the Watts section of Los Angeles.

They said: "We suspect that many white persons have viewed the middle-class Negro group as a moderating influence in the racial struggle. The 'better element,' it is often argued, will be responsible and orderly and understand the necessity for a gradualist solution of the Negro problem."

"We find little room for such optimistic appraisal. If our analysis is correct, the problems of urban life for the Negro, even in the palm-lined spaciousness of Los Angeles, have grown acute and a significant number of Negroes, successful or unsuccessful, are emotionally prepared for violence as a strategy or solution to end the problems of segregation, exploitation, and subordination."

The sociologists' report on Watts will probably have a sharp pertinence to the investigations made into the Detroit riots by congressional committees, the President's special commission, or any other group.

Sunday night Michigan's Gov. George Romney talked to the people of his state about the riot but didn't provide any new insights although he warned that unless solutions are found the rioting will get worse and spread.

"More and more Negroes are listening to and supporting Negro leaders who advocate a separate black society in America," Romney said.

"These militant revolutionists are preaching hate, violence and rebellion."

And Detroit's mayor, Jerome P. Cavanagh, on the NBC television program, "Meet the Press," blamed the "Indifference in Congress" as one of the prime causes for the "malady of riots in the streets."

But neither Romney nor Cavanagh went into an explanation of how a riot actually starts and, for that matter, the sociologists apparently didn't either.

For instance, in the sociologists' study prepared for the government's Office of Economic Opportunity there was nothing to show what triggered the riot in Watts, how much of a role was played by criminals who saw a grand chance to get loose in a mob, or whether outside instigators were involved.

But the sociologists found the No. 1 gripe of the Watts Negroes was about the poor neighborhood they live in, meaning things like dirty streets and dilapidated housing.

Next in order of discontent were:

Mistreatment by whites-discrimination and rough police tactics.

Economic conditions-low pay, high prices, high rent, lack of jobs.

Lack of public facilities-transportation, schools, shopping facilities, parks.

Employed persons felt more discriminated against than the unemployed. And those with only a grade school education were less favorable to the riot than those on any other educational level.

A majority of the Negroes questioned said they opposed the riot but 35 per cent were sympathetic to it.

120 Known Dead in Venezuela

By GEORGE ARFELD
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The toll from earthquakes that rocked Caracas and northwest Venezuela rose to 120 known dead today with thousands injured and 100 to 300 estimated missing.

Eight of the approximately 15,000 Americans living in Venezuela were killed in the devastating quake Saturday, the U.S. Embassy said. A minor quake struck battered Caracas Monday but the only death reported was that of a man who leaped in panic from his third-floor apartment.

Tired rescue workers kept sifting through the rubble of buildings that crumpled Saturday, searching for victims. Damage was estimated at $100 million.

The earthquake Monday knocked down a garment factory and 10 persons were trapped in the wreckage. Panic spread temporarily among some of the 1.7 million Caracas residents, but the tremor was not felt in some sections of the city.

The U.S. Embassy said American citizens killed included Ronald Regis Zedak, 26, of McKeesport, Pa., a representative of the U.S. National Catholic Welfare Conference; Bonnie Spiller, 26, and her mother, Mrs. Tania Braun, 47, both of Houston, Tex., and Emilia Cabrera, a Cuban-born pianist.

Four other Americans whose hometowns were not known were Keith, Lyn and Alida Kaplan and Eduardo Parra Neff.

U.S. military forces in Panama flew 11,000 pounds of relief supplies to Caracas.

The Caracas Airport reopened Monday and airlines said flights were back to normal.

President Raul Leoni ordered the Venezuelan pavilion at Expo 67 in Montreal closed until Friday out of respect for the earthquake's victims.

Executive director, Mike Carozza, of the Southwest Arkansas Development Council told the Hope Lions at the regular noon luncheon Monday at Town & Country, of the aims and purposes of the Council's program.

Mr. Carozza quoted the 15th and 16th verses of the second chapter of James which expresses the true meaning of the underlying principles of the Council, a concern for the needs of the underprivileged.

At the local level there is to be a Community Action Program against poverty, want and need.

The local committee is composed of representatives of three groups-elected county officials, county and civic officials and representatives from the group in need of help.

The community in action committee will try to determine the main needs and establish helpful programs. The committee will undertake to encourage and motivate the group they are trying to help as well as to administer material aid.

There are plans to set up a Neighborhood Service Center in which special attention will be

You are hereby notified that a complaint in condemnation has heretofore been filed in the office of the Clerk of the above-named Court in an action to condemn, and the estate taken for said public uses is the perpetual right, power, privilege, and easement occasionally to overflow, flood, and submerge the land described in Schedule "A" and to maintain mosquito control in connection with the operation and maintenance of the Millwood Reservoir Project as authorized by the Acts of Congress approved July 24, 1946 (Public Law 526 - 79th Congress) and July 3, 1958 (Public Law 85-500), together with all right, title, and interest in and to the structures and improvements now situated on the land, except fencing provided that no structures for human habitation shall be constructed or maintained on the land, and provided further that no other structures shall be constructed or maintained on the land except as may be approved in writing by the representative of the United States in charge of the project, such restrictions being intended for and limited to the prevention of construction which would interfere with the operation of the project or constitute a danger to persons or property; provided further, that any exploration or exploitation of oil, gas and minerals shall be subject to Federal and state laws, with respect to pollution; subject to existing restrictions for public roads and highways, public utilities, railroads and pipelines; reserving, however, to the landowners, their heirs and assigns, all such rights and privileges as may be used and enjoyed without interfering with or abridging the rights and easements hereby acquired, in the property described in the Schedule "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof for public use in connection with the construction, maintenance and operation of the Millwood Reservoir, Little River, Arkansas, and for such other uses as may be authorized by Congress or by Executive Order. The authority for the taking is the Act of Congress approved February 26, 1931 (46 Stat. 1421, U.S.C. 258 a), and acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof, and under the further authority of the Acts of Congress approved April 24, 1888 (25 Stat. 94, 33 U.S.C. 591) and March 1, 1917 (39 Stat. 948, 33 U.S.C. 701), which authorize the acquisition of land for flood control projects; the Acts of Congress approved July 24, 1946 (Public Law 526 - 79th Congress and July 3, 1958 (Public Law 85-500), which acts authorize the construction of the Millwood Reservoir Project, Little River, Arkansas; and the Act of Congress approved October 15, 1966 (Public Law 89-689) which act appropriated funds for such purposes.

You are further notified that if you have any objection or defense to the taking of your property, you are required to serve upon plaintiff's attorney at the address herein designated within five days after the date of the last publication of the Notice, an answer identifying the property in which you claim to have an interest, stating the nature and extent of the interest claimed and stating all your objections and defenses to the taking of your property. A failure so to serve an answer shall constitute a consent to the taking and to the authority of the court to proceed to hear the action and to fix the just compensation and shall constitute a waiver of all defenses and objections not so presented. You are further notified that if you have no objection or defense to the taking, you may serve upon plaintiff's attorney a notice of appearance designating the property in which you claim to be interested, and thereafter you shall receive notice of all proceedings affecting the said property. Negro Quaker Not Above Violence

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A Negro Quaker, whose religion historically has condemned violence and stressed peaceful reconciliation of conflicts, said today that "violence is inevitable in the revolution" to establish justice for Negro Americans.

Barrington Dunbar, a New York social worker and representative of the American Friends Service Committee to the recent Black Power conference in Newark, N.J., said the conference made clear that the present situation "demands militancy."

"It demands revolutionary tactics rather than accommodation to the system that has been brutal and violent so far as the Negro is concerned," he told delegates to a world conference of Quakers.

In his report, outlined to newsmen in advance, Dunbar also predicted that the recent chain of urban rioting would "continue all summer. You just can't control and direct a revolution in a straight line. People just don't behave that way."

Dunbar, a lean and articulate man, said that as a Quaker he opposes the violence and personally "could not participate" in such methods. But he said it serves a "useful purpose in alerting the American people" to the abject conditions of Negro lives.

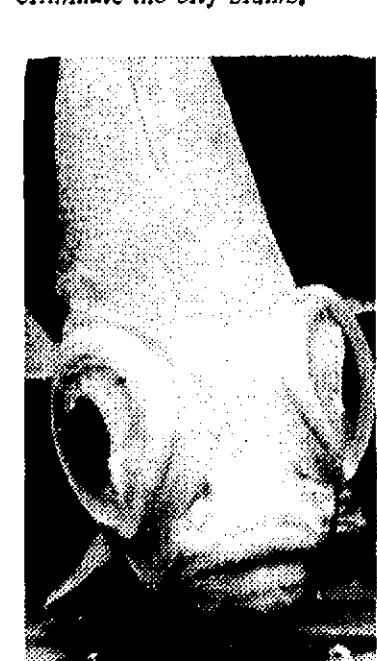

"What is being done by snipers from the rooftops in Detroit is not more serious than what we're doing in Vietnam in the name of freedom and defending democracy," he said.

Dunbar's report came as 1,300 Quaker representatives from 38 nations reviewed means for uniting and strengthening the work of their movement, noted for its antiwar influence and humanitarian service.

Dunbar said he was "shocked and surprised at the anger" manifested at the Black Power conference. "Unless there's more willingness to share power with Negroes, our country is in for real trouble," he said.

He called for massive programs to correct the past damage done on a scale comparable to allied reconstruction efforts after World War II in devastated Germany, where Dunbar served at the time aiding former prisoners of war.

Dunbar said the American preparations in behalf of Negroes should include building of decent homes, schools and churches to eliminate the city slums.

Negro Quaker Not Above ViolenceArkansan Killed on Forrestal

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — CPO Gerald Farrar, 31, a native of the Batesville area, was among those killed aboard the Forrestal, relatives reported.

His widow and four children live in Norfork, Va., and his mother, Mrs. Sadie Bryant, lives in the Southside community near here.

He had been in the Navy 15 years.

Witnesses Tell of Fire on Forrestal

By PETER ARNETT
ABOARD THE CARRIER

FORRESTAL, Off Vietnam (AP) — The fireballs that hopped and tumbled toward Lt. James J. Campbell were men, and he stood transfixed beneath the white body of an F4 Phantom jet until he heard their screams.

Then Campbell and scores of other Navy men preparing the jet planes for strikes against North Vietnam flung themselves on the fireballs that seconds earlier had been their buddies.

"We rolled on them, dived on them. Anything to get the fires out," said Campbell, from Homestead, Pa.

"They were screaming and writhing. And as their planes burned up we saw the big bombs fall to the flight deck, glinting red."

The young officer was in the midst of the worst U.S. Navy disaster in a combat zone since World War II. He was at the after end of the flight deck of the 76,000-ton carrier Forrestal, that had steamed into the Gulf of Tonkin five days earlier to join the war against the Communists.

A pilot poised to participate in the war probably had the first intimation that disaster was imminent Saturday. He was Lt. Cmdr. John S. McCain III of Washington, D.C., a graying 30 and the son of the chief of U.S. naval forces in Europe.

Hunched over the controls of his A4 Skyhawk, he was third in line from the catapult that was to blast his and the other planes off to North Vietnam.

A loud explosion shook McCain.

"I thought my aircraft had exploded. I looked out and fuel was spilling over the flight deck. Flame was behind me and in front of me. I thrust open my canopy and eged out along my refueling pole. The flames were 10 feet deep around the plane."

McCain jumped 10 feet to the deck and rolled through the fire, scorching his light tan flight suit.

"I rolled clear and moved toward the starboard side. I looked back and saw another pilot leaving his plane. Then he fell into the fire, he was burning. I ran toward him," McCain said.

"Then I saw a chief repairman come up. He ran right past me into the fire toward the pilot, carrying a fire extinguisher. Then the first bomb went off. We were blown all over the place. The pilot, the repairman, they were killed."

Crouching by a Phantom jet as McCain jumped was Lt. (J.G.) Lee V. Twyford of Arlington, Va. He ran toward the pilot. Two men manning a hose passed him.

The first bomb detonated. Twyford said he was flung to the deck. The nose was torn and spilled water on the deck. The two men carrying the hose had been killed.

On Surface Dodd's Life About Same

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the surface at least, life for Sen. Thomas J. Dodd now appears about the same as it did before he was censured 92 to 5 by his colleagues last month.

But it is apparent from talking to the 60-year-old Connecticut Democrat and other senators that neither he nor they can erase the censure from their minds.

"Of course I'd like to forget about it," Dodd told a reporter. "But it just isn't possible."

Colleagues observe all the amenities in their contacts with him, but there are differences not readily apparent.

One senator, for example, who had invited several colleagues to speak to summer interns working in his office, said he had not and would not invite Dodd.

The Senate censured Dodd June 23 for conduct "which is contrary to accepted morals, derogates from the public trust expected of a senator, and tends to bring the Senate into disrepute."

This was based on a finding by the Senate ethics committee that Dodd had converted to his personal benefit at least $116,083 of campaign and testimonial funds.

The Senate rejected 51 to 45 a second count that Dodd bilked both the Senate and private groups for the same travel expenses.

The censure vote did not deprive Dodd of any of his rights or privileges as a senator and he has made an obvious effort to carry on his work as usual.

He has put out statements about pending legislation and actively has tried to prevent the extradition of former Prime Minister Moise Tshombe to the Congo, where he has been sentenced to death on treason charges. Tshombe is held in Alcatraz.

But Dodd has been most prominent since his censure as chairman of the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee, presiding over hearings on the federal gun control bill that is part of President Johnson's anti-crime program.

W.C. YERGER

SAN ANTONIO — Airman Wm. Fred C. Yerger, son of Mrs. Annie B. Yerger of Rt. 3, Hope, Ark., has received his first U.S. Air Force duty assignment after completing basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

With Labor Day already falling on a Monday, the measures would produce a string of short vacations throughout the year.

Christmas and New Year's Day still would cycle through the days of the week.

Similar bills have been kicking around Congress for years, but this is the first time hearings will be held on them.

The idea has strong support in the business community, which thinks it would smooth out production schedules and cut down absenteeism among workers who make their own three- or four-day weekends when holidays come in mid-week.

The only real opposition comes from traditionalists who find it inconceivable that the Fourth of July, for instance, should be celebrated any other day.

But supporters of the legislation have amassed a lot of information showing the dates of most holidays have been set arbitrarily and that the calendar itself has been changed.

The proposed changes would make Washington's Birthday fall on the third Monday of February, Memorial Day on the last Monday of May, Independence Day on the first Monday in July and Veterans Day on either the last Monday in October or the first Monday in November.

Some would have Thanksgiving Day observed on the fourth Monday in November.

Enactment of any such legislation would affect only federal government activities. The states still would be free to proclaim their own holidays, but they generally follow national policy on such matters.

DAVID PERKINS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Airman David H. Perkins, whose mother is Mrs. Helen R. Allen of 523 N. Hazel St., Hope, Ark., has been selected for technical training at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., as a U.S. Air Force administrative specialist.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. His new school is part of the Air Training Command which conducts hundreds of specialized courses to provide technically trained personnel for the nation's aerospace force.

Airman Perkins is a 1967 graduate of Yerger High School, Dallas.

TELEPHONES FOR TUGS on Lake Erie put them in a class with today's taxis by getting them to the scene fast, when they are needed. A traffic control center, shown in the inset, in Cleveland's Terminal Tower can direct and control activity of the 28 tugs of the Great Lakes Towing Company at all 12 ports in Lake Erie, ordering them directly and quickly to pick up a tow. The lift pictured on the tug above is not necessary to the communications system, although it represents another tugboat innovation which gives the captain a better vantage point during operations.

A FRAUD OF MARRIAGE
Dear Helen: I'm a 16-year-old girl who is afraid of getting married.

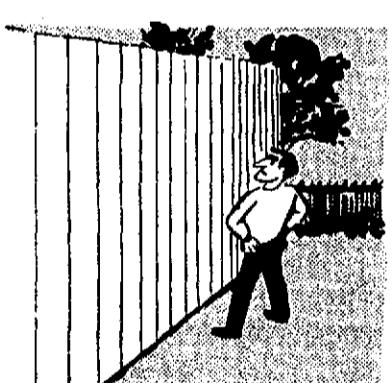

Spite Fences

"Good fences," wrote Poet Robert Frost, "make good neighbors." But bad fences make lawsuits. This is particularly true of the spite fence, a fence built by a property owner for the sole purpose of annoying the people next door. For more than a century, the spite fence has been a bone of contention in our courtrooms.

In an earlier day, the spite fence found support in the doctrines of rugged individualism. What a man built on his private property was considered nobody's business but his own.

Thus, one court saw nothing unlawful when a home owner put up an ugly wooden fence, 40 feet high, artfully located so as to shut off light and air from the house next door.

"It would be intolerable," went the explanation, "to allow a man's neighbors to question his motives every time he should undertake to erect a structure upon his own premises."

Yet, the sheer nastiness of the spite fence was so plain that a reaction finally set in. Gradually, through both legislation and court rulings, the law swung the other way. Today it is the rule almost everywhere that a fence built just to be mean is indeed unlawful.

As one indignant judge put it: "What right has the defendant to shut out God's free air and sunlight from the windows of his neighbor, not for any benefit to himself but simply to gratify his own wicked malice? None whatever. The wanton infliction of damage can never be a right."

What if the fence-builder's motives are mixed—partly spite, partly practicality? For example, besides having a grudge against his neighbor, he may also have a legitimate use for a fence—perhaps as a wind-break or as a feature of some ornamental landscaping.

In that case, the law usually gives him the benefit of the doubt. The man may build his fence, even if the additional motive of tormenting the folks next door adds zest to his labors.

But if the law gives its approval, it may also tack on a word of advice.

"A good neighbor is a great treasure," one court reminded an obnoxious home owner. "We can generally have such treasures if we are neighborly ourselves."
